Effective Work Demands Modern Equipment

Success is for those who take advantage of every opportunity. Notice how frequently the man of affairs uses

Webster's New International Dictionary—

a whole library in one book, the product of master minds, clear, accurate, compact, authentic. You will find this "Supreme Authority" in his study, at his club, in his office. It is on the table of his lawyer, his architect, in the editorial room of his daily paper, in the schoolroom of his children. Universally used by young and old in their work and play to answer questions of what, why, how, about words, people, places.

400,000 Words defined, including New Words and World War Terms.
30,000 Geographical Subjects.
12,000 Biographical Entries.
6,000 Illustrations.
2,700 Pages.
100 Valuable Tables of Coins, Weights, etc.

If hundreds of thousands of successful men and women know and use this foundation book, WHY NOT YOU?

A recent purchaser says: "The New International has enabled me to do two things, save time and build knowledge, and time is money and knowledge is power. The ability to talk and to write effectively spells success."

The ONLY Dictionary with the new divided page.

Type matter is equivalent to that of a 15-volume encyclopedia.

How to Select a School

Parents desiring to gain reliable information concerning the best schools for their sons and daughters, and young men and women who desire to avail themselves of the best educational facilities, are invited to consult carefully the educational announcements on the following pages.

The announcements well represent the school and college equipment of the country. They contain much interesting and instructive information which cannot fail to be exceedingly helpful for a study of the educational opportunities offered, from the Kindergarten to the University.

Agricultural Colleges
Art Schools
Boys' Prep. Schools
Business Colleges
Co-educational Prep. Schools
Colleges
Colleges for Women
Dental Schools
Domestic Science Schools
Schools of Oratory
Engineering Schools
Girls' Boarding Schools
Kindergarten Training Schools
Law Schools
Medical Schools
Military Academies
Music Conservatories
Normal Schools
Physical Education Schools
Summer Camps (Boys)
Summer Camps (Girls)
Technical Schools
Universities

Pains have been taken to admit only schools that have gained distinctive recognition.

The educational announcements are grouped by states. A handy index to them, arranged alphabetically and also by states, will be found at the end of this volume.

Requests for additional information concerning any of the schools designated will receive prompt attention.

In order to serve inquirers with entire satisfaction it is necessary to know the type of school desired, the section of country most convenient, amount to be expended, religious denomination, and any special characteristics of the student that may assist in the selection.

Address all inquiries to "EDUCATIONAL EDITOR," WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA, 440 Dearborn St. South, Chicago, Ill.

FOR SERVICE

NOT PROFIT

EDUCATION SERVICE aims to render every conceivable kind of service to schools and teachers. One of its striking features is the conscientious effort, through expert channels, to render efficient and satisfactory service at the lowest possible cost.

Our employment service, national in its scope and comprising the largest teacher-placement work under one management in the United States, includes administrative and departmental work in public and private schools, colleges and universities; also such positions as business managers and purchasing agents for schools, financial secretaries, registrars, accountants, private secretaries, matrons, housemothers, cafeteria directors, trained nurses and dietitians.

We operate the American College Bureau, the National Teachers Agency (Inc.) of Washington, New York, Boston, Chicago and Evanston, and the Fisk Teachers' Agency of Chicago, an Illinois corporation. The American College Bureau, with its General Office at Evanston, Ill. (other offices: Chicago, New York and Washington), is a professional personnel bureau, organized for the purpose of assisting college and university executives to solve their faculty problems. While it is self-supporting, it is non-commercial.

Among the various forms of service which EDUCATION SERVICE is prepared to render is the securing of books and magazines for school libraries and teachers. Usually these can be obtained at a material reduction. In our travel service we arrange for congenial groups, and we are frequently able to secure special privileges and rates for such parties, particularly for European trips. In our thrift and savings work we distribute thrift literature, and through leading banks and bond houses of Chicago and New York we offer a special investment service for teachers. Teachers are urged not to purchase miscellaneous stocks and bonds without first permitting us to consult reliable sources as to their value, this service being entirely free.

EDUCATION SERVICE is prepared to furnish financial secretaries and directors of financial campaigns for colleges; to secure through its bank connections expert advice as to investment of endowment funds; to arrange for school surveys; to purchase supplies for schools (usually at liberal discounts); to secure information in regard to prospective students for private schools as well as to supply field secretaries; to handle advertising and general publicity; and negotiate the sale of schools and summer camps.

The whole endeavor of EDUCATION SERVICE is service, and to render the greatest aid to the largest number at the lowest cost; in short, to be a clearing house for schools and teachers as well as a general educational information bureau. Your suggestions will be welcomed. Consult us freely.

The Choate School

Wallingford, Connecticut

The School was founded in 1896 by the Hon. William G. Choate and Mark Pitman.

Its location, about twelve miles north of New Haven, has proved to be one of the most healthful in New England.

Its numbers are large enough to make for strong esprit de corps and athletic rivalry, without being so large as to prevent a distinct family life and the necessary attention to individuality and development.

Its policy is by a large corps of masters to give to each boy what he individually needs, without holding to any rigid system of forms.

Its effort is unsparing to strengthen in the boys' minds high motives of action which shall permanently control their lives; and to send out boys who are trained for responsible citizenship.

The Lower School prepares boys for the Upper School, as the Upper prepares them for college.

A catalogue of the School is sent upon application, with the names of those who know intimately the School's work and character.

GEORGE C. ST. JOHN, A. B. (Harvard), Headmaster

LOOMIS

Prepares for schools of business and finance, agricultural, scientific and academic colleges. Practical training for boys intending to enter business or farming on graduation. Eight fireproof buildings with all latest equipment and facilities. Gymnasium. Athletic fields. Cinder track. 175-acre farm. Manual training shops. $2,500,000 endowment. $700 a year.

Address Headmaster, N. H. Batchelder, A.M., Loomis Institute, Windsor, Conn.

THE HARSTROM SCHOOL

NORWALK, CONN.

A Private School offering a splendid opportunity to any boy whose preparation for College has been interrupted or delayed.

THIS School was founded in 1893 but since 1899 has devoted itself exclusively to preparing boys for college. How well the school has done its work is indicated by the fact that 650 of its pupils have received either preliminary certificates of admission to college, or final certificates, or both; and 350 others have, by work done during the summer terms, passed off conditions for college.

Pupils are received for the last one, two or three years of their college preparation. There is also a summer session each year, open to boys from other schools wishing to make up deficiencies.

The permanent staff of the school consists of 6 masters, which is increased to 8 during the summer months. Enrollment of students in winter is 25, in summer 40. School conducted upon cottage plan. Circular sent upon request.

Carl Axel Harstrom, A.M., Ph.D.
Principal

THE CURTIS SCHOOL

For Young Boys

BROOKFIELD CENTER, CONN.

Based upon the plan of intimate personal association with its thirty boys in family life. Founded in 1875 by the master who still conducts it aided by his son and five instructors. Altitude 500 feet. Ventilated buildings; a new stone gymnasium; a private artesian well; a complete system of drainage; and a remarkable record for health. The boys have separate rooms in the family house.

In connection with, and outside of, the school work proper, they are taught:

RESPONSIBILITY AND THE DIGNITY OF LABOR, by the performance of duties which affect all;

THE USE OF MONEY, by regular allowances paid out under instruction;

SELF GOVERNMENT, by participation in school discipline.

THE FACTS AND MEANING OF SEX, by personal instruction from the master, which does not ignore the spiritual side of the subject. This prevents a low undercurrent, and makes the boys courteous and manly.

A Business Preparatory School of Superior Merit

You feel of a fabric, you listen to the golden tone of a musical instrument, you live in a book—and you judge a school.

That judgment you base upon the type of student body attracted to its class rooms, its reputation among the general public and upon the special reputation its graduates have created in the minds of business men, whose word in the end must carry deepest conviction. There is, too, a genuine satisfaction not accounted for by reasoning in allying oneself with what instinctively appeals as the best.

Gregg School, home of Gregg Shorthand, offers stenographic, secretarial, bookkeeping and accounting courses of the highest standard. It welcomes an investigation, secure in the quality of its teaching and the fruitfulness of the results obtained by its graduates.

GALESBURG, ILLINOIS

Established as a department of Knox College in 1883

The study of music may be pursued with private teachers, and ofttimes with splendid results, but sooner or later the music student, as well as the literary aspirant, must seek the institution where high ideals are contagious. For this reason, the serious music student finds advantages in the study of music at Knox Conservatory which are scarcely to be gained in larger schools devoted entirely to that purpose. On the other hand, the college student receives a broader education, either directly or indirectly, from a course of study pursued in a musical atmosphere such as is found at Knox.

DANA HALL

Three Departments

Tenacre For young girls from eleven to fifteen years of age. A beautiful country estate, with three large, perfectly equipped, modern homes, providing accommodations for forty pupils. Ample school building. Courses of study correspond to those of seventh and eighth grades of grammar school, and first year of high school, leading to the College Preparatory or General Course at Dana Hall; instruction under highest talent; fine gymnasium, outdoor sports and horseback riding under trained teachers, etc. At Tenacre individual needs of pupils are carefully met. A strong foundation is laid in the fundamental branches and also in the elements of one foreign language. The school is about ten minutes' walk from Dana Hall and the surroundings are noted for their beauty.

Dana Hall The scope of this well-known school includes not only a College Preparatory Course, but a well-selected General Course for students who do not desire to enter college. Dana Hall represents thorough scholarship, general culture, and the many advantages of a large, highly organized school. Its graduates are admitted without examination to all the leading colleges for women that accept students by certificate. The school possesses the advantages of both country and city life. Gymnasium work in a large and thoroughly equipped building and field sports are in charge of competent physical directors. Under proper chaperonage the students enjoy the rare opportunities which Boston offers in music and art.

Pine Manor The Post-Graduate Department of Dana Hall. Established in 1911 for students who desire to take up advanced courses of study. Graduates of High Schools may find here a congenial and stimulating environment. Excellent instruction in Economics, Psychology, Philosophy, Astronomy, Modern History, Civics, History of Art, Advanced French and Spanish, Italian, English Literature, and a thoroughly practical course in Domestic Science and Arts. A Musical Certificate is granted to pupils who meet the requirements.

Wellesley stands at the head of the list in the official health records of Massachusetts.

The New England Conservatory of Music

Huntington Avenue BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

GEORGE W. CHADWICK, Director

Located in the musical center of America, the Conservatory affords pupils the opportunity, the environment, and atmosphere so necessary to a finished musical education.

The Conservatory Building, Huntington Avenue, is constructed on the most approved modern plans and is especially adapted to the needs of a music school. The larger auditorium, Jordan Hall, has a seating capacity of over a thousand.

The smaller auditorium, seating over four hundred, is used for lectures and pupils' recitals and for the Dramatic Department; also as an assembly hall for social purposes. The facilities for organ practice are unexcelled, fourteen pipe organs being used.

The curriculum offers courses in every branch of music, applied and theoretical, in class or private instruction: Pianoforte, Organ, Voice, Violin, Violoncello, and all other Orchestral Instruments, Composition, Harmony, History of Music, Theory, Solfeggio, Literature, Diction, Choir Training, Ensemble, Wood-wind Ensemble, and String Quartet. The Normal Department affords practical training for teaching.

The vocal and instrumental lessons of the school are given either privately or in classes of three; the theoretical work (dictation, harmony, solfeggio, etc.) is taught in larger classes.

French, Italian, and German are studied. The Dramatic Department affords practical training in acting.

Washington University is one of the largest and best equipped urban Universities in the Middle West. Situated in St. Louis, adjoining Forest Park, it combines suburban location with the social, musical and artistic advantages of a large city.

The main campus, west of Forest Park, includes a large number of commodious buildings, praised by the British Educational Commission as one of the finest groups of college buildings in the United States. Completely furnished dormitories for men and women are located on the campus.

The School of Medicine, at the eastern end of Forest Park, includes in one group Barnes Hospital, the Children's Hospital, the Training School for Nurses and the new Orthopedic Hospital, in process of construction, a dispensary with a capacity of 1,000 patients a day, and the buildings of the Medical School proper with laboratory facilities unexcelled in the United States.

The urban location of Washington University makes it possible for all departments of the University to be centralized in one city. Whatever course a student may select, the entire facilities of the University are at his disposal. The University is divided into the following departments:

College of Liberal Arts
School of Engineering
School of Architecture
School of Medicine
School of Dentistry
School of Law
School of Fine Arts
School of Commerce and Finance
Henry Shaw School of Botany
Graduate School
Division of University Extension

Bible College of Missouri

Columbia, Missouri

Adjacent to the University of Missouri. Mutual interchange of credits. University students have a better chance for Bible study than in the average church college.

Twelve Bible College Courses are credited toward degrees in the University of Missouri. Three men devote all their time to this work.

The problems of religious education at state universities are best met through a united religious approach. The Disciples of Christ and the Presbyterians U. S. A. are at present enlisted in the work of the Bible College of Missouri. Other religious bodies are considering joining in the work.

More than forty students from the Bible College have gone to the foreign field since 1904. Yet greater numbers have entered the ministry. Each year students are turned to the ministry, mission field, or other kinds of religious vocation through Bible College influence.

Dartmouth College

HANOVER, NEW HAMPSHIRE

Founded by royal charter from George III, 1769. The charter of the College was an outgrowth of a plan of the Reverend Eleazar Wheelock for the education of Indians. The idea of the founder was early modified and Dartmouth's development has been that of the other New England colleges. The attempt to expand its function and change its title to that of university, which occurred in 1816, resulted in the famous law-suit known as the Dartmouth College Case, which brought decision in favor of the College.

Dartmouth College has an enrollment of 2000 students and a faculty numbering 150. The courses of undergraduate instruction lead to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science.

THE ASSOCIATED SCHOOLS ARE

THE AMOS TUCK SCHOOL OF ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE

A Graduate School offering two years of special preparation for business careers. Students of three years' undergraduate standing admitted to the work of the first year, which leads to the bachelor's degree. The work of this year lays a foundation for the specialized work of the second year. Students with the bachelor's degree admitted to the work of the second year which leads to the degree of Master of Commercial Science. Courses in accounting and auditing, financial administration, organization and management for production and selling, chamber of commerce work, commercial languages, foreign commerce, business statistics, etc. WILLIAM R. GRAY, Dean.

THE THAYER SCHOOL OF CIVIL ENGINEERING

Established 1871. Offers a general course of study and practice in Civil Engineering, so developed as to include the essential principles of all important branches. Small classes allow close contact with instructors constantly. Essentially two years of professional preparation, including the final year in college for the B.S. degree and a year of advanced work, earning the degree of Civil Engineer. For copy of the Annual giving addresses and positions of its graduates, etc., or other information, application should be made to CHARLES A. HOLDEN, Director.

THE MEDICAL SCHOOL

Established in 1798. Candidates for the A.B. or B.S. degree in Dartmouth College may satisfy the specific requirements of both the College and the Medical School in three years, and may elect the first year in medicine as the senior year in college. Dartmouth Medical School has bestowed no degrees since 1914. Fully equipped modern laboratories are provided for the courses of the first two years. Quiet surroundings and personal supervision and instruction by the Faculty favor individual work and insure the thorough preparation necessary for later advancement and success. At the end of the second year candidates are eligible to transfer to leading metropolitan schools to complete the work of the clinical years of the course. COLIN C. STEWART, Secretary.

Application for admission to the College should be addressed to E. Gordon Bill, Director of Admissions; for admission to the associate graduate schools to the official whose name appears below the description of the school to which admission is sought.

The Phillips Exeter Academy

EXETER
NEW HAMPSHIRE

Candidates for admission to the Phillips Exeter Academy must be at least 13 years of age and must satisfy their instructors as to their fitness, either by examination or by certificates from former teachers. Every applicant must also furnish satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

The Phillips Exeter Academy was founded in 1781, by Dr. John Phillips, and has ever since been continuously maintained as an efficient preparatory school for boys.

¶ FOR INFORMATION regarding Summer School, address Chairman Summer Session.

¶ THE OBJECT OF THE ACADEMY is to furnish the elements of a solid education by thorough instruction in a few subjects. Students are dropped from any class, at any time, if they fail to do satisfactory work. The system of government encourages self control, truthfulness and a sense of honor. The discipline is not adapted to boys who require severe restrictions.

¶ INSTRUCTION IS GIVEN in all subjects required for admission to leading colleges and scientific schools. The training is systematic and consecutive, and students who honorably complete the course are awarded a diploma. College entrance examinations are held at the Academy in June of each year. In 1921, about 160 Exeter boys entered college, technical or professional schools. The certificate of the Academy is accepted by all colleges, scientific and professional schools which do not require entrance examinations

¶ MANY SCHOLARSHIPS ARE AWARDED every year to needy students of high standing. The equipment of thirty buildings comprises recitation and residence halls, dining halls, gymnasium and swimming pool, laboratories and cottages. The playing fields cover 300 acres and contain running track, baseball diamonds, football fields and tennis courts, and a golf course. The equipment is entirely modern and complete. Catalogue containing detailed information mailed upon request.

HOLDERNESS SCHOOL FOR BOYS

Holderness (P. O. Plymouth) New Hampshire

Location The school grounds are on a bluff 650 feet above sea level, overlooking the beautiful valley of the Pemigewasset River. Purer air and water cannot be found.

Buildings The main building, the chapel and the new gymnasium are of brick and represent the most approved types of school architecture. All buildings are lighted by electricity and are heated by steam.

Athletic Equipment In addition to the fine new gymnasium completed in June, 1913, there is an athletic field encircled by a quarter mile running track, with a foot-ball and a base-ball field, tennis courts and "bleachers."

Object To develop manly, Christian character; to prepare boys for college and scientific schools; to cultivate a sound mind in a sound body.

Curricula There are three courses of study: the Classical, the Latin-Scientific, and the Scientific. Provision is made, however, in the lower forms for boys not ready for the regular courses.

This actually happened in a directors' room

It helps to explain why executives are turning to the Alexander Hamilton Institute in larger numbers than ever before

IN the quiet, almost luxurious, directors' room the department heads of a certain large manufacturing company were called together by the general manager.

One after another the production manager, the purchasing agent, the head of the planning department and the sales manager expressed themselves. The burden of each man's excuse was the same: "If I had received proper co-operation from the other departments we would have met our quota easily."

The general manager spoke last, a keen, aggressive man of thirty-eight, who had been brought in from the outside.

"Gentlemen, you have told me far more than you imagine," he said. "It's perfectly clear what is the matter with this concern. You men have forgotten that it is a business and not merely a collection of departments. You are first-class specialists, crackerjacks in your own departments, but Gentlemen, you are mighty poor business men"

They were too stunned to answer.

"I'll repeat it," the general manager said, "You—all of you—are poor business men. You're a group of stars but you aren't a team. Each of you knows his own viewpoint; he knows his work and knows it well. But you do not know enough about each other's problems to make this company an effective business unit.

"The sales department has got to know more about production, and accounting and costs; the production department has got to think more in terms of sales and credits—each one of you has got to get some vision of business as a whole, in all its varied and inter-related departments. That's what this company needs—and it needs it badly."

The next day, at the general manager's invitation, a representative of the Alexander Hamilton Institute visited that office; and every department head enrolled for the Modern Business Course and Service.

More than 24,000 senior executives enrolled

The Institute's appeal has been always to successful men, to men of mature years who had already made a favorable start in their chosen line of work. More than 24,000 senior executives have enrolled with it during the past twelve years, many of them in company with their most trusted associates.

This is the significant thing, however: In the past six months the number of enrollments received by the Institute has been larger than at any similar period in its history; the average age of the men enrolling has been higher; their present position in business higher on the average than ever before.

As never before, the leaders of business enterprises are demanding better business training for themselves and for the men on whom they most depend.

Will you spend an evening with the facts?

The facts about the Institute's Course and Service are condensed into a 118-page booklet that aims to answer every question which a thoughtful, ambitious man is likely to raise.

To promote a wider understanding of its training, its purposes and its results, the Institute offers a copy of this booklet to any reader of this publication who will request it. In a single evening you can have the full facts. The booklet is called

"Forging Ahead in Business"

Just what the Modern Business Course and Service is and does; just how it has helped to solve the problems of hundreds of businesses in every line; just how individuals have used it to increase their own progress and earning power—all this is contained in "Forging Ahead in Business." It is a book worth adding to any business library.

MOUNT PLEASANT ACADEMY

OSSINING-ON-HUDSON, NEW YORK Over One Hundred Years Old

For this historic school Daniel D. Tompkins, Vice President of the United States, subscribed the first money in 1813; the first building was erected with funds provided by William Jay, son of the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. They had faith in the future of the school; you can judge of it by its history. Send us your boy. Mount Pleasant provides an ideal school home for him and we will prepare him for college or business as you choose. Incidentally he will also grow in manliness and self-reliance. This Hudson River Country is superbly beautiful and inspiring.

ST. AGNES SCHOOL

The Corning Foundation for Christian Work in the Diocese of Albany was Incorporated in 1873. St. Agnes School Was the First Work Undertaken by the Trustees, and Its Only Educational Work. The School Was Founded in 1870 by the Late Rt. Rev. Bishop Doane.

St. Agnes School occupies large buildings, situated on high ground, designed, built for, and thoroughly adapted to school needs. The arrangements for Boarding Pupils are unusual and are considered a great advance upon the usual boarding school standards. The Primary and Secondary School covers the entire education of a girl up through a thorough preparation for college. The Upper School offers more advanced courses for more mature students. The Right Reverend Richard H. Nelson, Bishop of Albany, President of the Board of Trustees. Especial attention is given to health.

MANLIUS
Saint John's School

BOX W 13
MANLIUS, NEW YORK

Brig. Gen. William Verbeck
President

Saint John's School was founded at Manlius in 1869 by the late Bishop Frederic D. Huntington.

For thirty-four years it has been under the same President, who has patterned it after the great English schools, Harrow, Rugby and especially Winchester, from which it has borrowed, among other good things, its ancient motto: "Manners makyth man."

It offers preparation for college and business and successfully combines the theoretical with the practical in developing its boys.

The School is not permitted to grow so large as to lose the element of personal attention to each pupil which has contributed to its success in the past.

There is a Junior School for boys under 14.

Ranked by the War Department as "Honor School" for nineteen years and gives superior Military Training through its Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

ASHEVILLE SCHOOL

Near ASHEVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

A PREPARATORY SCHOOL FOR BOYS IN THE MOUNTAINS OF NORTH CAROLINA

WHERE A BOY CAN GROW AND DEVELOP UNDER THE MOST FAVORABLE CLIMATIC CONDITIONS EAST of the MISSISSIPPI RIVER

Believing that the health of its students is the first consideration of an ideal school, the founders made a careful study of the country from Maine to Florida in search of the most healthful region in the eastern half of the United States, and selected a site in the mountains of North Carolina. The remarkable health record and unusual physical gains of the pupils during the twenty-two years the school has been in existence, show conclusively the wisdom of the selection. The methods, standards, faculty and equipment are equivalent to those of the best northern schools.

Twenty-four states are represented in the enrolment.

A SCHOOL THE BOY WILL LIKE

Isn't that what you want for YOUR boy? You know how any boy will WORK when the work appeals to him and when the surroundings are congenial. That is one of the great secrets of the success of

St. John's Military Academy

This great school is famous for the ESPRIT of its students and the loyalty of its graduates. It takes a boy at the most impressionable period of his life and by a happy combination of military routine, study, and athletic sports, arouses first his INTEREST, which is quickly followed by loyalty and enthusiasm. With this attitude toward his school, the boy is ready to absorb much more than can be taught from books. The education at St. John's is not a mere "book learning" education. It is broader and deeper. It TRAINS a boy for life and MAKES HIM a GOOD citizen.

The good work of St. John's has been recognized by the government, which maintains a unit of the R. O. T. C. at the school under the supervision of Regular Army Officers.
